In addition to a 20" stride length, the 95Xi's nonslip pedals are oversized and placed just 28" apart, which limits hip shifting and lowers back stress. As the 95Xi is designed with crosstraining in mind, some of its available workout options include Crosstrain Reverse and Crosstrain Aerobics modes, a Fit Test, and 6 customizable programs, and the 95Xi generates prompts on its display to keep users motivated. Of course, a reading rack and accessory tray are included, and like other Life Fitness products the 95Xi is selfpowered and totally mobile, with rear wheels and no electrical cords to deal with. You don't even need to speak English to workout with the Life Fitness 95Xi all data is available in up to 9 different languages on a duallevel alphanumeric LED Console. Dutch 5.0 out of 5 stars Minor cosmetic flaws but in good shape for a used machine. I have never used it but my bride is very happy with the machine. I had a few questions and the vendor was prompt and helpful even after the purchase. <http://farrowmemoryspeakers.com/userfiles/canon-eos-rebel-gii-user-manual.xml>

Rush Sports was excellent, price was scary, cost as much as replacement windows, but i think worth the investment in myself so i can be around to enjoy the view from the window. Used this elliptical, I have not been able to find any other reviews that spoke poorly of this machine, thats why i took the chance. Rush had me the machine in less then a week. I will write more as time goes on to let you all know how it holds up to my 250 lb frame. They were sold to me by Life Fitness as their top of the line model at the time. Later, Life Fitness admitted to me that they contained a manufacturers defect. I replaced all but 4 of these things before the warranty even ran out 2 years. These pieces should last for at least 5 years. the other 4 have since been replaced as well. Nice way to treat your customers Life Fitness. I will NEVER buy another Life Fitness elliptical for as long as I live. I will only buy ellipticals from Precor from now on! I got mine two years ago and lost 70 lbs AND now I have a V02 max that would allow me to run in a marathon. I also bike, indoor row on a Concept II rower; weight train on a total trainer; balance on a BOSU trainer, stretch with weighted bars; and walk a lot. However, the 95Xi is central to my exercise since ones aerobic capacity opens up doors that you can run through trademark. The only shortcoming of the 95Xi was the companys support. Life Fitness feel free to post contact information if you have the answer to this question. I got my 95Xi very early on and the dealer had to upgrade parts that wore out and that was a little frustrating since the replacement wasnt proactive. For example, I had to have the stabilizers replaced 3 times but now they seem perfect since Life Fitness now makes them stronger. During the past two years, Ive used it for 282 hours or about 23 minutes per day. That far exceeds the time I spent with any other piece of equipment.

The reason why I like the 95Xi so much is that its more like a treadmill than a stair stepper. Their residential models and every one of their competitors seem to be closer to stair steppers since the elliptical motion seems hoppy and choppy. The 95Xi, on the other hand, has a very smooth, elliptical rotation that makes me think Im walking on air and doing the moon dance. Overall, I recommend the 95Xi hands down. Please try again.
