Then to quickly dump the memory. Pull the power plug and hold down the stop button and plug the power back in and release the button once the time and date appears. Programming fax number should be located on page 35. This may help for now. I can't find the part and Canon help requires me to have the serial number of my machine at work and I am at home. That is not replaced separately. Which rollers are you trying to replace. There are several. Have you tried cleaning them first with a rag and some rubbing alcohol. Only fax and copy. Answer questions, earn points and help others. The company I work for does not have one with their machine. The link I have read about is not accessible. Any help will be appreciated. I'd be glad to help; I need the manual as well. Thanks. It would be greatly appreciated. Could someone please help!!! If that's the case, put in one sheet and hit copy. Then grab the back of the paper and push on it to help it. If that works, then you'll need to rejuvenate the rubber rollers. If you disconnect the linkage on the bottom of the control panel, you can fold it back all the way. Then order this and apply it to all the rollers. So, all we had to do was push it again and now the paper feeds through and we are able to fax again. Woohoo! Thanks for your help, Moe. Their post WILL be deleted. Forum Moderator Hit the DOWN arrow twice. Hit SET twice. You'll get a USER REPORT showing where everything is located when you hit the DATA REGISTRATION BUTTON. The DATA REGISTRATION allows you to change all the settings found in the USER REPORT. If you want to change the Speed Dial, then go into TEL. REGISTRATION MENU instead of the DATA REGISTRATION MENU. Then you can use your brain and figure out how to set stuff. For Speed Dial, you have to type in the numbers and letters. It's easier than leafing through the 406 page manual. That's the way I program mine. Wouldn't open the manual if I had one. My fax rings and is driving me crazy. I cannot find one anywhere. Thank you. Sheeeeeessh! Moe There is clearly a link at the top of the page. But will the people look for it. no. I see why you get feed up with them. <http://www.jangrootmuziek.nl/files/doall-drill-press-manual.xml>

Here is a recent example, not even the dumbest one I've received. I swear, I would take their computers and printers away and make them use crayons and markers if I could. I'm a strong advocate of testing before a person is allowed to buy a computer or printer. They make you pass a test before they allow you to drive. There should be one for computer knowledge. It's these people who are the reason for the prevalence of SPAM. If there weren't any stupid computer users opening SPAM, there would be no reason to send it. We don't have a manual in the office. If anyone has this information, please email it to me. Thanks. I can not tell you all the times I have done that. If they would only look they would find it, and then if they would read they would not have to ask anyone anymore. Read the other post People. unknown Is there any way to make it stop? Is that how the machines are all set up or is this something we can adjust. Is there a way to go back 40 days instead of just 40 transactions? Thanks. This will erase all stored info and set fax back to factory settings. I am having the same problem. acwarrenton Then hit SET 3 times. Figure it out from there. I need it bad!!!! Thank you sooooo much! BTW, we do receive fax from other people. God bless you. I am trying to change the TX report so the 1st page of the fax is on it as well. Any ideas how? Press Data Registration, SET, down arrow, SET, SET, select Transmission Report On, SET. Forum Moderator This link was most useful regards Anonymous I was smart enough to click the link but it's not valid anymore. Anonymous If you think you need the manual why not post the problem first and let us help. Most of the time you can fix these without a service manual. ST It took me a bit with google to find the part number of the ADF roller assembly so I could find some place to buy the part. If anyone finds this message via google looking for the part number, it's HG50918000. HTH. Can I use it as a printer with my computer.

If yes then how TXs? Hary Someone told me that there are some 9000s that have printer ports, but I've never seen one. So all you have to do is look at it. If it has a printer port, you can use it as a printer. If not, then there is absolutely no way. My LC9000S came with an interface adapter, HG51320, with BNC and NET connectors that clipped over the aforementioned parallel port. I haven't bothered with the adapter and have been struggling with the Parallel interface directly but with absolutely no joy whatsoever. So the Port, if that's what it is, is still active. I'm missing something really basic here I think. Does anyone know what it is? Tim Darraugh A user of this forum Tim Darraugh has a Laser Class 9000 that has some sort of adapter that sounds like a critical piece of the puzzle, but I don't have this adapter. All I see on the back of the printer, without dismantling the printer shrouds, are two telephone lines. Is there some way to plug into the telephone in with a modern computer to be able to print. Am I missing a critical adapter. Is this a lost cause the Laser Class 9000 is incapable of printer function. Any help or direction to who to ask would be much appreciated. I posted the manual a week or 2 ago. PKThe only site that continues to come up is the unavailable Any help is much appreciated. Thanks. Anonymous I clicked the link but it's not valid anymore. The user's guide would be wonderful. I've searched the Canon website and multiple Google responses with no luck. Thanks! Anyone Thanks Deeply appreciated. Paul Anonymous OR can you maybe just help clear the memory of the fax. Thanks Anonymous Thank you! Anonymous Not enough paper came out to grab and we can't get to the paper by going through the other side where the toner is. How can we get this paper out so that we can print out all the faxes that have been received since last week when this happened. I can't find a manual anywhere. Any help is greatly appreciated. Anonymous It used to do it. Now it doesn't.
