MOTORTREND.COM He initially intended to simply drive and enjoy the new Silverado without making any changes other than some simple ECM tuning, but then the ideas started flowing and he saw the new truck as a chance for a fresh start. He began work on it by removing the leveling kit and installing a Cognito Motorsports 4 to 6 inch inch nontorsion bar lift kit complete with Fox Factory Performance Series 2.0 shocks on all four corners. The truck rolls on a set of 33X12.50R20 Nitto Ridge Grappler tires wrapped around polished aluminum 20x12 American Force Rebel wheels. Then lightning struck a second time when Steve's then girlfriend called him to tell him that she rear ended a car with his truck. Having decided to go beyond the simple tuning and drive it phase, Steve turned to Jason Wehrli and his team at Wehrli Custom Fabrication to not only dress up the engine bay but also provide some more oomph under the hood as well. Steve and Jason settled on a WCFab BorgWarner S366SXE turbocharger upgrade, featuring boost tubes and a turbo pedestal that are powder coated blue and metallic gray to match and contrast the bright exterior of the truck. Exhaust is expelled through a set of ProFab manifolds and uppipes that channel the hot gasses to the turbine.

The custom exhaust setup terminates in the bed with a polished 6 inch stainless steel, mitercut Silverline Exhaust stack. They also installed a WCFab coolant tank and pipe kit that is powder coated in matching blue. For the current setup, Steve relies on the turbo and custom EFILive tuning by Bob Olson of Team Twisted, to coax more power from the otherwise stock 2003 6.6L Duramax LB7 engine. He estimates that the truck makes around 600 hp and 1,000 lbft of torque. He is using an NV5600 sixspeed manual transmission that was built for GM to use as a tester when the company was exploring options for replacing the wellknown ZF6 manual. GM ultimately chose to eliminate the manual altogether and Steve's NV5600 eventually made it onto an auction site where he purchased it along with the necessary hardware to install it. The NV5600 is linked to the Duramax engine through a South Bend Clutch dualdisc clutch assembly to handle the power while delivering a smooth engagement. Since it is a daily driver that is used for towing, hauling and work duties on a regular basis Air Lift air bags are installed in the rear for proper load leveling. Steve also fabricated a set of adjustable traction bars and had them powder coated metallic gray to keep the Silverado from twisting the leaf springs when he mashes the loud pedal. Then he installed a quartet of Rigid LED driving lights in each of the lower bumper openings to light up the night as he blasts down the road. To spice the rest of the lighting he added a set of Recon smoked LED cab lights and taillights as well as aftermarket lightly smoked headlights and parking lights with accent LEDs. The bed is treated with a LineX finish to protect it from work incidents and daily use. Of course he removed the columnmount automatictransmission shifter and installed a floormounted stick for NV5600 gear selection.

To keep an eye on the engine he relies on an Edge Products CTS display and an analog AutoMeter Competition Instruments Cobalt 60psi boost gauge mounted on the top of the column. Thanks to his hard work and help from his friend Kris Mims, his daily driven rig is a fun to drive truck that continues to get better as he wrenches on it more and more. I've been in for 3 different issues and the guys always go a great job. Happy to see Lotus has an ACTUAL dealer here in Chicago now. Game changer for owning one of these in Chicagoland. There are some rattles that should not be there. The hook up for the safety chains and receiver for the hitch are a 1 or 2 out of 5. The ride is quite comfortable. Within the first 1200 miles I took two six hour no breaks trips, I'm 62 and can get pretty stove up sitting for long periods, the Air conditioned seats are wonderful, I jumped out to get the mail and had run clear across the street before realizing how long it had been, to move that quick, GREAT TRUCK, Driving fatigue after six hours on both days, was almost none existent. A pleasure to travel again, I'm a Happy boy. I went to 5 dealerships today. All of them said they couldn't get me approved and that I needed a cosigner because I never had a car loan before, until I met Chris at McGrath Arlington KIA. He got me approved at numbers that made sense to me. I would highly recommend this dealership. Very comfortable to drive never short on power. Surprisingly quiet. A lot of options especially if your an outdoorsman. Have not towed with it yet but comes with everything for a goose neck to include electric brake controller and exhaust brake. The buying process is very friendly and theres no pressure.

Everyone that works there is very customer oriented and you can tell they want their customers to be happy. I knew when I first started talking to LaDale that I was going to buy a car from him. He was the friendliest salesman I dealt with all day and was happy to bring out anything I wanted to see and test drive. After a couple, I sat down in my new car and knew it was the one. He got me a great price and I love it. Dont hesitate, go see them today. Thanks guys! Looks great and is very dependable. If you have the diesel it gets great mileage for your hard earned money! We were kindly greeted and immediately seated with Cynthia Ochoa. After explaining what we would potentially like to do she understood and had us test drive the 2017 Malibu we had on hold. After many conversations and additional thoughts we ultimately made our decision on a different Malibu which was an Iridescent Pearl Tricoat instead of the Summit White. The Pearl didnt have a sunroof which is a must for my wife but Cynthia explained that we could have one installed at their dealership at a later time. We opted for this route and will be bringing the car back in a few weeks to have the sunroof installed. Had Cynthia not mentioned this to us as an option, we most likely would have left the dealership with a nice new Summit White Malibu instead of the Pearl which my wife absolutely fell in love with. Cynthia never waivered in her commitment to us and we never felt rushed. As the day got longer and we got hungrier she took a few minutes and drove us down the street to get a bite to eat. This was above and beyond for her but was very much appreciated. I would absolutely recommend talking with Cynthia as your salesperson as she stayed patient with us throughout the day. We drove over 80 miles from Wisconsin to do business with Currie Chevy and will do it again in a heartbeat. Thank you Cynthia and Currie Chevy for a job well done.

Plenty of room inside the cab with an extended bed, but didnt feel like a big truck when driving on the road. Great interior design and super comfortable for the long drives. The performance the engine puts out is impressive. It was well taken care of and has many many many more miles to go. Even after 5 years of owning the car I am still impressed by it everyday Im driving down the road. I felt confident that this was the right car and from the right dealer. Throughout the entire process Matt was honest and always gave me the time of day; I never felt rushed on the phone or in person. When I bought the car, I drove up from Indianapolis to pick up the car and it was apparent that the Corvette was a prized car on the lot, there were not as many other sports cars, but all cars looked to be nicely kept and cleaned. I didnt feel like it was a risk to buy a sports car from the Nelson Automotive lot, if anything I probably saved money due to not having to pay an additional markup from a performanceoriented lot. My actual time at Nelson Automotive was brief Matt arrived early to the dealership to accommodate my schedule, even though he had plans for brunch with his inlaws later that morning. We took the car out for a test drive, talked a bit more about the history of the car, and the minor normal maintenance work they had done to make sure they sold me the car in excellent condition. I was thrilled when I got the keys. The paperwork took probably 10 minutes and I was on my way. The car rode like a dream. About 30 minutes from home, the clutch pressure went out and I had to have the car towed the rest of the way home. I took it to a shop and they determined the slave cylinder went out, and that it would be 2 hours of labor plus the cost of the part. I called Nelson Automotive, we were all shocked since this car drove fine.

Matt took this information to his boss, and they worked with me on the issue they refunded me with the cost of the part that I paid for, as well as the cost of the labor to have it replaced. Normally I wouldve expected that I wouldve needed to have the car brought back to Nelson Automotives shop to have the work done inhouse, but they took care of the issue in a way that was convenient for me. Overall, I was very pleased with the way they handled what was an unexpected postpurchase issue.

Ive now had the Corvette for exactly one year, and its been a the best car Ive ever owned. Ive received so many comments on how great of a condition the car is in, and that it must have been well taken care of. I always tell them about my experience with Matt at Nelson Automotive, and I know where my first stop will be when we purchase another car.It's comfortable on trips and looks good. How ever it is painfully expensive to have repaired. 90% of shop won't even work on diesels and the ones that do charge a lot. It was a really good car buying experience. I was glad that he seemed to realize this and made the whole thing pretty painless. Thats not the way buying a car has usually gone for me.Finally, he even sent an Uber to pick me up from my house. Just a really good guy that made it all hassle free. It is Xtremely comfortable and reliable and worth the price. I like the options the towing package and the comfortable drive. It's a good value for the price! I feel I have been driving sub par vehicles my whole life now. I had a 2016 Silverado 1500 prior to this and it was nice. But everything about the 2500 is better. The price was already very fair, but they discounted price a couple hundred dollars more, My wife enjoys her car. So far so good. Thanks Jim for an easy and pleasant transaction. Tows my rv like a dream. Expensive, but you do get what you pay for. My Silverado 1500 gasser was good, but not for towing in the mountain passes. This beast is built to tow.

Keeping everything stock for now. She helped a lot in the process, highly recommend her!!! However the 2500 diesel version is unreliable. My father had a 2014 chevy silverado 2500hd with the duramax engine. It broke down often. He hardly used it for work. Mostly just for weekends to go out. Never pulled,towed or hauled anything with it. The reason he finally got rid of it was after the fuel system had a problem and it ended up damaging the internal parts of the engine. Luckily it was still under the 36k miles. So stay away from these duramax engines. The only reliable duramax engines are the ones made in 2006. Unfortunately, we were not able to find anything close to home. After widening our search to include Illinois, we found a white F350 at Motorsource that met our criteria. From our first phone call through to visiting the dealership and making our purchase, these guys were good to deal with. The truck turned out to be from Texas. It was a good end to a long search. Lesson learned! Love the body shape. Plenty of room inside for five adults. The electric and usb ports are nice to have also. All of the accessories is also nice. Its great to be able to pull a trailer of 9500 GVW. I liked the selection of cars you guys have with unbelievable prices and i appreciate. Andino, you are amazing and I couldnt have had a better experience. You made it an exciting and easy process. You bent over backwards for us and I am just so so excited. I dont have enough thank yous for everything that you did for us. We love ya! It only has 60,000 miles in 7 years. Everything works fine except for the DEF system for the diesel engine. I will not drive too far from home because never know when the sensors will break. Never buy another chevrolet diesel. Shaun was very helpful and kept in touch answering any questions or concerns we had. When we got there Shaun and his coworkers had problems with the car battery and replaced it right away.

The car was in great shape and we gladly bought it. The car is still running well. Other taxes may apply.Ford F250. Something went wrong. View cart for details. All Rights Reserved.
