Keresek rossz Canon BJC4660 nyomtatot. Eleg lenne nekem az említett nyomtatobol a fopanel,mertCleaning the head seems to solve it many times. So after I put the cleaned out printhead back in, I did the trick again where u power it off when the carraige is half way to the left, remove power andapply power. If I closed the cover, the B200 error would eventually come back. I asked the customer if he had spare cartridges, and he did, so he bought them over, we put them in, tried again, and same B200 error. I told him its likely a print head, and he may try ordering one thru ebay or something to give that a try. Apparently there are microelectronics inside these heads. Beats me how they control or regulate ink flow. On the back of the head there are about 50 contact pads, which I guess must be sensors of some kind. <http://www.italsky-chrtik.utf.cz/userfiles/ibm-6400-printer-user-manual.xml>

He did say he took the head out at one point, and perhaps ESD may have damaged some sensitive circuitry in there, and now the head is out of spec. I thought I saw some russian videos jumpering some of the pads on the head to bypass the code.anyone have any success.
