I did not see any mention in the manual about an option to have the screen go completely blank, so this is likely a low battery issue. There is an option to have the backlight come on automatically when you rotate the watch to the horizontal up position but that does not appear to be your issue. If you have not changed the battery in the last 2 years then it is almost certainly due. Obviously the battery will not last as long if you use the light function more often. Just change out the battery with a new one CR2025 and see if that helps. Thank you very much and good luck.

Login to post How to replace the battery on Casio watch CASIO 753 At a low charge, the watch goes into saving mode by switching off the display while keeping the time, date, etc.. To charge the watch leave it in a brightly lit spot for a day or two. That should be enough to make the watch function as normal again. For more information, you can download the manual of your watch here direct download link Timepieces Watches Manuals CASIO Can someone help me My watch was blank and flashing C this morning, but has come back with no help from me, except for random button pushing.Immediately prior, the solar battery shows a full charge, in addition, the backlight battery is less than a year old. When the. I think the rechargeable battery is the problem because when the screen goes blank the battery level drops to low and the LCD blanks out which would explain the intermittent operation of the watch. I think it is worth getting it checked out with an estimate.Depending on how low the battery is usually pressing the light button and the display goes dim or blank is a good indicator of this. Takes a CR1616 battery and be careful of the spring inside and make sure the seal is in the correct position. You will need to touch the AC button and the back of the battery with a pair tweezers for a couple of seconds to reset the watch. Put the case back on and set the watch thru the functions.In my opinion, Casios assertions that you wont need to change the battery is pretty much of a joke. My jeweler concurred. After changing the battery I can now press the light switch button and the watch works normally. TonyIt is NOT an off the shelf regular battery. It is best to send the watch to the factory service rep in your area for a battery change. In many of these models the battery is using solder contacts to the circuit board. The person changing the battery will require the original spec battery, and be equipped to do surface type soldering.

When working on this watch, the factory service will change the seals and do a pressure water resistance test. The regular corner watch service store is not equipped to do this type of testing. Normaly, the battery in solar watches should last more than 5 years. Some are going past 10 years! Jerry G. Answer questions, earn points and help others. As a college student, I have been using this same model calculator since about the 7th grade. Never fails me.

Easy to use, great functions. Crisp buttons, and a sliding cover that helps keep it protected in your bag or desk.However I thought I saved money with this purchase. Unfortunately I didn't read carefully enough and it does not come with the charger which lucky for me I already have one. I still have to purchase rechargeable batteries because it didn't come with those either. So by the time you add it all up you're better off paying for a brand new one that comes with everything. Item also came a dirtier than expected.Since she is entering prealegebra, our school requires students to have this calculator. The calculator is very durable. I know it is expensive but it is worth it. It is pretty large as well and is over 7 inches in length and over 4 inches wide. This is the second one I purchased from Amazon. I had to buy one for my other daughter when she took prealgebra as well. The calculator comes with its own manual on how to use it. Texas instruments is a good make and their products are known to last a long time. We expect our daughters to use these calculators through high school and college for math classes. I am pleased with my purchase and recommend this product.I'll need to buy a cable and reinstall the Apps myself which is a further delay than I needed. Buyer Beware, might be worth it to just buy it new. Also an illegal product for me to own and for the seller to sell, these are for school use only. I'll just have to make due until I finish the class and get rid of it. I've attached photos where you can see where the paint job got messy and how some programs are removed. There is also the scraped section where the words "School Property" would be. Came with 4 spare AA batteries, warranty, manual, and cable. Screen will be slightly hard to read in a dim environment. Satisfied with product. The 3 photos include how the product was shipped, the items in the package, and a size comparison to a regular Sharpie.

This is a refurbished model for the same price as a new one. Very misleading I purchased it for a statistics class. The instructor spent much time helping me. We figured out the buttons were worn out so when values were entered they didn't always appear. No matter how hard I pushed the button. Glad it wasn't me though cause I was feeling pretty stupid half way through the semester. I'm throwing it in trash cause I can't do that to someone else. Spend money on one u can return if not made well. The frustrations that I had dealing with this on a daily basis for 8 weeks was not worth what I thought I was saving. This one was used, and at first I thought I was ripped off because the batteries inside were dead, and it seems like someone painted over the slideoff cover to it. But, once I replaced the batteries, it worked like a charm, and the paint on it actually gives it a nice, almost rubberlike grip. Very satisfied.
