The parts lists contain the component grid locations, shown in parentheses after the reference designator. Boards that are doublesided, with components installed on both sides, have the location prefixed with a "T" for top of the board, and "B" for the bottom of the board. Therefore, a component's location within an approximate oneinch grid can be determined similar to locating cities on a roadmap. Listed are the replaceable parts available from CONMED. Many of the more common parts may be available from local electronic suppliers.
